Solons Deny Smith The Right To Take Oath As Senator STREETER DECLARED INSANE; IS SENT TO NAPA

INCURABLE SAY ALIENISTS WHO TESTED YOUTH

Murderer of C. Bosanko
To Spend Life in Insane Asylum

His prematurely greyed head bowed as he sat between his attorneys in the court room of Judge H. V. Alvarado yesterday morning. Donald L. Streeter, 24, youthful slayer of Clifford Bosanko in this city, heard alienists testify that he was afflicted with a paranoid type of dementia praecox (progressive delusions) for which there is no cure and that without question the remainder of his life would be spent in an insane asylum.

Ever by his side, his young and beautiful wife, who has spent practically all of her time with her husband at Martinez since his arrest, stayed with him yesterday throughout the trial.

A look of sorrowful relief crept over the careworn face of the mother of Streeter's two infant children as the jury, after hearing only an hour of testimony, and spending less than five minutes in deliberation, declared that the young man was insane. A short time later Superior Judge H. V. Alvarado sentenced Streeter to the insane asylum at Napa and the sentence is for life, for according to three of the states best qualified authorities on the subject, the mind which showed its first cracking with the cold blooded slaying of Clifford Bosanko, 42, father of two children on November 16 at the Standard (Continued on Page 8)

World's Future Seen In Orient

(By Universal Service)
PALO ALTO, Cal., Jan. 20.—"The future of the Oriental peoples will be a large measure determining the future of the whole world."

That prophecy was voiced to students at Leland Stanford University here today by Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president, in his first address to the students since his return from the Orient.

"China, with her teeming millions, is divided between two political philosophies, the Bolshevistic doctrines of Russia and the Democratic ideals of America. The Russians have exerted great influence but their teachings, I believe, have passed the peak of influence."

Japan had made marvelous progress in the field of medicine and medical research, Dr. Wilbur said. The educator attended the Pan-Pacific science conference in Tokyo.

BERGENS HAVE SON
A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. R. Berger, 1133 Herst avenue, yesterday at the Richmond Maternity hospital.

David D. Muir, of Oakland, has accepted a position as salesman with the local telephone company. He was formerly connected with other enterprises in the East Bay.

Blasphemer?

Because he wrote in his paper, the Christian Inquirer, that the Bible contains "hundreds of passages relative to the Divine Being which any honest and moral man would be ashamed to have appended to his character," Ernest Stanley Stierri (above) has been arrested at Toronto, Ont., for "blasphemous, indecent and profane libel." Not since 1853 has the old English law against blasphemy been invoked.

TRYS TO SAVE AUTO; IS KILLED BY POWER WIRE

Attempting to free his automobile from contact with a 2200 volt wire of the Great Western Power company, near Walnut Creek, Otto Rautianinen, 44, was electrocuted and killed instantly, yesterday morning.

It is said that Rautianinen attempted to use a shovel to disengage the wire which had sagged and caught on the top of his car. A ditch digger employed at the Mokelumne River project is supposed to have struck the wire when it was moved yesterday morning, thus causing it to drop.

District Manager Ray Hammet of the Great Western company in Walnut Creek ordered all power connections broken in the Martinez and Concord districts when word of the accident came to him. The report made to Hammet led him to believe that the man had become entangled in one of the power wires and still lived.

Rautianinen, however, was killed instantly.

The dead man was an employee of Twoby Brothers on the Mokelumne River project of the East Bay Municipal Utility District, and was on his way to work when the accident occurred.

Deputy Coroner Ruby Harlan of Walnut Creek took charge of the body and is attempting to find Rautianinen's wife. She is supposed to reside in Berkeley.

Alimony May Not Be Given Lita Because Of Tax Suit

Government Tax Suits are Bars to Disposal of Star's Money

(By Universal Service)
By EDMOND BEHR
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 20.—Although Judge Walter Guerin this afternoon allowed the receivers of Charley Chaplin's estate to pay Mrs. Lita Grey Chaplin two months temporary alimony, amounting to $8,000 there was every prospect that she would not get the money at once because of the government's $1,073,721.47 income tax suits against the film comedian.

The tax suits are a legal bar to the disposal of any of Chaplin's property for any purpose, and the restraining order to this effect has been active for several days. The court today ordered a total of $14,500, which included $4,000 attorneys fees, paid out of Chaplin's funds. Mrs. Chaplin's alimony is one month in arrears, so she was allotted $8,000.

Receivers W. I. Gilbert and Herman Spitzel have under their control approximately $17,000 cash in local banks belonging to Chaplin. This would be available to comply with today's court order if it were not for the prior lien held by the government.

Attorney Lyndol Young, Mrs. Chaplin's counsel, said that he will apply to Commissioner of Internal Revenue Blair at Washington for authority to obtain the money.

The $1,000,000 bond imposed on the Chaplin Studios, Inc., yesterday pending the hearing of the appeal for discharge of the receivers had not been posted today. The studios and Charley's home therefore remained under the control of the custodian appointed by the court. It was intimated that Chaplin's attorneys may not obtain this bond in view of the fact that another million dollars would have to be put up as surety in order to obtain the release of the government's liens pending trial of the tax suits.

Sweden Insulted By U. S. Action

(By Universal Service)
BERLIN, Jan. 20.—Great indignation prevails in Sweden over what are considered two slights inflicted upon Prince William in America.

The first indignity was seen in the fact that agents were selling tickets to Prince William's lectures, and that they also presumed to sell "hand shakes" with the Prince at $50 each.

This second insult is seen in the election of Prince William to membership in the "Long Legged club of the U. S. A."

Teachers' English Flayed By Savant

(By Universal Service)
BERKELEY, Jan. 20.—"Sloppy, slovenly and careless" use of English by graduate teachers in the University of California today was attacked by Mrs. M. L. Chaney, appointment secretary of the School of Education, as deplorable.

Each year universities of the nation, Mrs. Chaney said, send out a distinguished group of teachers who are cultured in everything but the proper use of English.

MAY PROBE THE QUALIFICATIONS OF APPOINTEE

Reed Resolution Adopted
After Five Hours Of Debating

By ERASER EDWARDS
(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Frank L. Smith of Illinois, appointee of Governor Len Small, was denied the right to take the oath and present his credentials by vote of 48 to 3 in the senate today.

The resolution by Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, to withhold the administration of the oath and send the credentials to the committee on privileges and elections was adopted after nearly five hours of debate. Before this vote was taken the senate defeated a resolution by Senator Overman of North Carolina to permit the oath to be administered "with prejudice to further action by the senate," the vote on this motion being 48 to 3 also.

The Reed resolution was carried by the votes of 38 democrats, 11 Republicans and one Farmer-Labor member, Shipstead of Minnesota. Against it were 29 Republicans and 4 Democrats, the latter being Stock, Iowa, Bleasie, and Smith, South Carolina, and Overman, North Carolina.

Under the Reed resolution the committee is required to conduct an investigation of Smith's qualifications for the senate, and he will be permitted to be represented by counsel. The entire question of his right to a seat hinges upon the fact that in his campaign for the nomination in the primary he accepted large contributions from Samuel Insull, millionaire head of public utility corporations in Illinois, Smith being at the time a member of the (Continued on Page 5)

BOMB THROWS 3 FROM BEDS

(By Universal Service)
CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—Mrs. Catherine Corne, a widow, and her two sons, were thrown from their beds early today, when a black powder bomb was buried in their home. ### Callander Left Estate To Friend

Robert Callander, who was killed with George Hughes last week when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by the Santa Fe passenger train at the Thirty-seventh street crossing, bequeathed his entire estate to Grace Magnity, with whom he had boarded for several years. It was learned yesterday that the instrument was filed for probate in the Martinez yesterday. The will, a holographic one, was executed by Callander in February, 1923.

The value of the estate is said to approximate $10,000, and consists of Standard Oil company stock, an automobile, and personal property. Mrs. Magnity has retained Attorney T. H. DeLap as counsel.

BLAZ PLEDGED U. S. AID BY THE PRESIDENT

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—President Coolidge today formally pledged the United States to support President Diaz in Nicaragua and maintain troops there until tranquility is restored.

His declaration was made when Dr. Don Alejandro Cesar, new minister from Nicaragua, presented his credentials at the White House.

The president's utterances were generally regarded as spelling the doom of the revolution led by Dr. Juan Sacasa.

The president denied any imperialistic designs in Nicaragua and expressed a sincere hope that an early peace would make it possible to withdraw the American forces. He pointed out that the United States has always had the most friendly feeling for Nicaragua and all Central America, and would like to see them prosper.

He emphasized that the naval forces were sent to Nicaragua at the request of the Diaz government when it became evident that it could not protect American lives and property.

PAST LIFE OF REV. NORRIS TO BE GIVEN JURY

Defense Tries to Prevent Prosecution From Using Past Events

(By Universal Service)
By GENE FOWLER
AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 20.—The Rev. J. Frank Norris went on the witness stand at 5 o'clock this evening. He sat there for six minutes calmly and coldly aloof, while a storm gathered above the counsel tables. The jury was withdrawn.

The Rev. Norris is on trial for the slaying of Dexter E. Chipps last July 17 in the pastor's Fort Worth study.

While the Rev. Norris sat on the witness chair, Dayton Moses, chief of defense counsel, informed the court he had two written motions to present. Moses then moved the court to instruct state's counsel not to ask questions of the pastor referring to the following:

1.—His indictments for arson in 1914 and for perjury in 1915.
2.—The charge he had drawn a pistol on the late Constable Bob Poe, 10 or 14 years ago, and also the charge that he had shot at a newsboy at a remote time.

The argument grew hot and heavy. Special Prosecutor W. P. (Wild Bill) McLean said, in part: "The prosecution had not intended to go into this remote history, but the conduct of the defense has been such in going into the remote carrying of a pistol by Chipps that we ask the motions be overruled."

The Rev. Norris, with the jury absent, testified briefly to matters bearing on the motions. Then he stepped down and arguments (Continued on Page 8)

Stage Line Through County To Yosemite Denied by R.R. Board

The Railroad commission yesterday granted permission to the California Transit company, successor, in interest of the Yosemite Transit company to extend service between San Joaquin Valley points. The commission denied its bid for the San Francisco-San Francisco Recreation Camp permit.

There has been a long drawn out battle between automobile transit firms to operate stage lines from San Francisco through Contra Costa to the San Francisco Recreation Camp near Yosemite. The Contra Costa board of supervisors opposed the applications for service extending from the valley to San Francisco, of which proposed a route through Franklin Canyon.

The application of the San Francisco-Sierra Motor Coach lines was also denied.

Jacobs. Bushfield was released on his own recognizance.

Cloverdale—Pacific Gas and Electric company to extend and reconstruct local street lighting system.

FOOLISH TO USE SLOGANS SAYS EDITOR

(By Universal Service)
CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—Catch words were today blamed for economic ignorance, by Merle Thorpe, editor of The Nation's Business, in an address before the advertising club. "The public be damned," a slogan, which was never said, Mr. Thorpe declared, is a good example. "It represented for years the public idea of how railroads operate."

"It pays to advertise, was another slogan, successfully introduced by a Broadway hit, which has done a great amount of harm. "Of course advertising pays. But so does manufacturing, so does transportation. It would be just as foolish as to say that sending out 100 salesmen pays. If the salesmen were tongue tied it would be a waste and if advertising was tongue tied, it would be a waste."

Should the Cantonese Nationalists now marching on Shanghai attempt to loot the city officials fear that it will be necessary for the American naval forces actively to protect the Americans. Shanghai is the center of American business in China and has a larger American population than any other oriental city.

NET BUREAU TO MAKE LOANS ON WAR INSURANCE

(By Universal Service)
By JOHN T. LAMBERT
WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Assurance that congress will authorize the veterans' bureau to make loans without delay upon the war insurance policies of the world war veterans who are now being rejected by their local banks was given today by Senator Reed Smoot of Utah, chairman of the senate finance committee.

Smoot's committee will mould the empowering legislation for passage by the senate.

General Frank T. Hines, director of the bureau, was tonight completing the legislative plan for going to the rescue of the disappointed veterans. Bills of similar purpose drafted by Senators Robinson, Copeland, Mayfield and Walsh of Massachusetts will be considered along with the Hines plan. There is no substantial difference in them.

The joint purpose is to authorize the veterans' bureau to make loans to any and all veterans who apply. The banks of the country will be given continued power to loan, although hundreds (Continued on Page 3)

THE BOY OF TODAY

Just at present there is a laudable disposition on the part of our public men to come to the defense of the boys of the present generation. At a recent address in Chicago, Cameron Beck, personnel director of the New York Stock Exchange, declared that the present generation of boys is the finest in all history. "They are exceptionally honest," he declared, and business men are trying to do everything they can to help the boys." Mr. Beck was backed up in the same meeting by Judge Benjamin F. Jones, former president of the Lions International organization, who declared that in spite of the dark picture of modern youth being painted by some judges publicists and writers in general, he is of the opinion that the boys and girls now have a finer conception of life than ever before.

Another public man who has come to the defense of modern youth is Dr. Mather A. Abbott, headmaster of the Lawrence school for boys who wrote recently in the New York Nation, that he finds a remarkable standard of truth telling and honor among the boys of his acquaintance. A boy's word, he declared, once given is rarely broken, and on the whole he is a clean-minded individual.

The words of these men who have an intimate contact with modern youth, ought to be reassuring to some of our dark minded pessimists who have been telling us that the present generation is going to the dogs. It is true that there are some boys who turn bandits and others who drink synthetic liquor and make fools of themselves generally. But the number of these does not compare even fractionally with that of the bright and active youngsters who are entering our business world today from the bottom, who are studying to become the mechanics, the electricians, the chemists, the doctors, and the lawyers of the future. Interest in science and mechanics among boys is now greater than it has ever been.

Most of us feel sure that the world is on the eve of great scientific discoveries which will add to the peace, the happiness and longevity of our people. We are confident that many of these discoveries will come within the next ten, twenty-five or fifty years. But these things can not come if the boys and girls of today are going to the dogs.

But they are not, and the great benefactors of mankind for the next generation are now in the schools, in the workshops, and in our great business establishments occupying minor places but with real American spirit which will enable them to rise above their surroundings.

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Signed letters pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Letters should be brief and written in ink. Owing to the large number of letters received, only a few can be answered. No reply can be made to queries not conforming to instructions. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this newspaper. Name your return envelope. Don't say "city."

AN EYE MAN FOR EVERY EYE

There is a legend in medical circles about an eye surgeon who spoiled a bushel of eyes learning to do a successful operation on the eye. There is an equally preposterous popular newspaper yarn about the removal of eyes, kidneys and other appendages, and their replacement after a thorough washing or other remedy.

An optometrist says he has noticed that I frequently advise people to consult an oculist about their eyes and never mention the optometrist as an expert trained and competent to measure vision and fit glasses.

That is true. I have never recommended optometrists, but only oculists, and I am now ready to admit that I may have been wrong about that.

Before we go any further "it would be well to define the terms which relate to the eye and its diseases or defects.

Optician, one skilled in optics, the making of optical instruments and especially spectacles or eye glasses.

Optometrist, one skilled in the measurement of eyesight.

Oculist or ophthalmologist, a physician especially skilled in the diagnosis and treatment of diseases or defects of the eyes.

The optician, then, is a good man to take your prescription to, when the oculist or optometrist has prescribed lenses for any deficiency of eyesight. The optician is as skilled in filling the prescription for lenses as the pharmacist is in filling a prescription for medicine.

Often a weakness of the eyes or impairment of vision is due to some unsuspected disease such as nephritis or a sinus infection, which of course is not amenable to glasses and can be recognized only by a physician. The oculist frequently discovers evidence of such underlying systemic disease in his examination of the eyes. The optometrist or optician is not qualified to do so.

In order to make an accurate test and determine precisely how much eyestrain needs correction in a given case, it is essential to use "drops" in the eyes to put the accommodation at rest, if the individual be under middle age. The "accommodation" is the unconscious focusing effort, which gives a considerable margin of error. The focusing apparatus after middle age becomes more fixed and hence drops are not necessary for an accurate eye test in older persons. Sometimes unscrupulous spectacle peddlers propagate the suggestion that these drops, used by physicians (oculists, ophthalmologists) are dangerous. Customers should remember the fable of the fox and the grapes which were beyond his reach. In some states or provinces the law expressly prohibits opticians or optometrists or others than oculists (physicians) from using drops in the eyes—just another of our funny laws, but it explains the source of the grapes in this instance. The use of drops for proper eye examination has proved harmless in many thousands of cases.

With the exceptions noted, it makes little difference whether one goes to an optometrist or an oculist to be fitted with glasses. But it seems unwise to consult any eye man other than an oculist (physician) for treatment of disease which affects the eyes or the eyesight.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

If Turnips Were Watches

Cod liver oil being as you claim a good remedy for cold in the head, would it have any effect on the ears? (Mrs. S. H. O.)

Answer—I have never imagined cod liver oil is a good remedy for cold in the head. The feeding of cod liver oil to infants and young children, and sometimes to adults, probably aids in the development of the highest possible immunity against respiratory infections.

A Washout

I am inclined to believe you, though at first your lubrications on brushing the teeth upset me terribly. For 17 years I have actually scrubbed my teeth to prevent decay, but today my teeth have many more cavities than my friends who only give their teeth cursory brushing each morning. (R. A.)

Answer—The toothbrushing business is a grand business for those interested in it. It hasn't anything to do with saving the teeth, however.

Parrots Have Tuberculosis

I have heard that a parrot may carry tuberculosis. Would like to know the truth about this, as I contemplate buying one. (D. P.)

Answer—The tuberculosis of birds or fowls is not transmissible to man.

The Old Ones Survive

Does it harm the baby's teeth or would it be injurious to the child if the mother has her teeth extracted or filled during pregnancy? (Mrs. W. B. E.)

Answer—No. The expectant mother should have any necessary dental work done, for the sake of her own health and well being as well as the welfare of the baby. Only when the use of an anesthetic is necessary does she need to have counsel or attendance of her physician.

Galvanized Plums

In canning plums this summer I used a galvanized pot to cook them in. When I washed the pot I found the bright coating had come off in places. Are the plums all right to eat? (Mrs. G. E.)

Answer—If the taste is not unpleasant they are all right to eat. Galvanized ware should not be used for acid fruits, for some of the zinc is dissolved and it may spoil the flavor of the food or enough might be dissolved to upset the digestion of one who eats a considerable quantity of the food.

SCHOOL OF THE FUTURE

Some day, perhaps, we can stay in bed and still go to school. Teacher can have her cup of coffee and sit in her kimono reading the morning paper, and all the "colleagues" who were out until four o'clock in the morning (the night before) can wait in bed for school work to begin.

Perhaps school at home will start off something like this: Around about ten o'clock a few school announcements will be made over the radio. These will tell about the football game to which all the students are urged to come and lend the support of course all they will have to do is send their yells to the field by means of some machine and they will be amplified to give the usual roar of approval or disapproval. After all I guess there will not be any players as I rather suspect that the game will be played by some device, such as one sees in front of a newspaper office illustrating the moves of the baseball players.

The principal of the school, (of course there may not be any such person needed) will then continue with the announcements of "riding bicycles, on the front lawn (oh! I forgot there won't be any bicycles because there will be no pupils to ride to school; and "brace up in your studies because the marks are due next week."

Then the formal lessons will begin. The teacher will announce through the radio: "We will now hear from Master Brown his ideas on the Declaration of Independence." And Master Brown will thereupon put on his phonograph record which tells all about the Declaration of Independence, its signers, their life histories, and the principles of the constitutional government upon which the whole thing is based.

Meanwhile some one is shirking, but to discover this will not disturb the teacher a bit. She will then turn on a new device called the "Television" a machine not absolutely perfected yet, which allows the operator to see at a great distance. Teacher will see that Willie or Susie is not paying attention, is not keeping his phonograph records in good order and is staring out of the window to domestic pie or his nose out of the pantry. A confessed ignoramus in such affairs he insists upon meddling in the economics and machinery of the five-rooms-and-a-bath to the utter despair of the original Grand High Commissioner.

HIS COUNTERPLAY: You may be the Grand High Commissioner all right but you forget that the Governor and Treasurer General must hold the power of veto or the little kingdom will be wiped out by the unwise decisions which are born of inexperience. Man is held to strict accountability for the smooth running of his household and it is a responsibility he cannot shrug off in an idle moment. A woman should be the boss of her home but should not resent suggestions from general headquarters.

THE REFEREE: Merely viewpoint today. She has the better of the argument.

see the fire engines go by.

Sherlock Up To Date
If Johnnie attempts to lie, teacher will have a method of ferreting his crime. And now I get to the following perfectly true story which started me on this fantasy.

Very recently, in New York, a college professor planned a robbery on the part of another and caught him within an hour by an electro-psychological apparatus. Several hundred men and women present acted as jury and were convinced of the robber's guilt. This is the way he did it:

He selected three of his own students and sent them from the room with sealed instructions concerning the crime which one of them was to commit. Neither he nor his audience knew which one was to commit the crime. The crime was this: "Go to the office of the president of the Electrical Society, take a letter from the pocket of a blue overcoat on a chair, read it and remove the ten dollars which it contains."

What the one selected to carry out the crime had no warning of was that in following instructions he would ring a burglar alarm which would bring an armed watchman down upon him. The audience was surprised of all this by a special movie made with the aid of another group of students, to show just what was going on outside the auditorium.

One of them, as per instructions, committed the robbery. The three were brought back to the stage separately. Each was subjected to tests with an electric stethoscope which magnified their heart beats to the scale of throbbing ship's engines, and a psychogalvanometer which provided electrical measurement of their emotions.

The professor said to each of the supposedly guilty ones such significant words as "pocket," "coat," "envelope," "money" and "letter." A beam of light was thrown on the screen so that each change of current in the galvanometer due to the action of the stethoscope registered. Behold it was the second member of the crime trio who was guilty, because when the tale telling words of the professor were spoken to him the galvanometer almost ran away with itself. HIS HEART ACTION HAD GIVEN HIM AWAY.

Perhaps my fantasy isn't such a long way from being true some day.

OUR CONVERSATION CORNER

Running Riot

If you allow a small child a room of his own where he and his friends can play, such as the basement or garage, are you being too strict in not allowing the whole neighborhood the rest of the house?

Discouraged Mother.

ANSWER—No. It can't be done. Frankly I like to pet. I do not quite like to pet a girl who has been petted by everybody else. Being a student of logic I am trying to rationalize my practice with my ideal, which in short is that I would not on my life marry a girl who was a petter.

College Boy.
ANSWER—Yes, I get you. You are willing to make a plaything of any girl who permits it, and in a pinch you do not mind if other boys shake the rattle. But when it comes to choosing a life mate you are very discriminating. I know of no system of logic which will rationalize your theory with your practice.

SYNOPSIS

John Ballard, who has been in the District Attorney's office for a long time, has been married to Phila. His old chum, now President of a powerful railroad, and a fool in the hands of Jordan, money king. A grave wreck occurs, and when John grimly works to send all responsible officials to jail, Phil reveals to Jordan a college brawl in which John killed a man to protect him. Jordan thinks this the club he needs over John. He makes Phil promise to "swing" it. Phil, talking to his wife, learns she loves John.

CHAPTER IX—Continued

"Ballard was the man you were in love with before we married," Phil said.

"You've got it right—but what if he was?" Viola wouldn't lie.

"Plenty of it, I think!" he said. He was wonderfully braced by his discovery. If—why, this put a different complexion upon all he was doing. Being what he was, having all his life dealt with what he thought of as love as he had, he was sure that Viola and Ballard had met—had carried on their old affair. This paragon's been your lover!"

"That is a very cruel and stupid lie," said Viola, with quiet and biting scorn. "John Ballard has never been to see me—I have never met him, except by accident, and before other people, since you and I were married."

"A likely story!" said Phil. "Do you expect me to believe that? Look—do you think I care? That was torn from him by his jealous rage. It was inconceivable to him that a woman could prefer another man to him; he had for the sake of his own pride, to deprecate what he had lost. What, rather, he was free to tell you so, over and over, when we were first married. I did as I pleased—why shouldn't you?"

"I did. But I didn't please to do the sort of thing you did," she said, quietly. "Phil—for your own sake, get this crazy idea out of your mind. There is never been anything between John Ballard and myself."

"You didn't deny that he was the man you loved before our marriage?"

"No. I didn't. And I don't. It is true. He was."

"Let me finish. He never told me he loved me. I think he did—" "So do I! I know it! Ha!"

"I think he did," she went on, "but that for reasons, wholly to his credit, that you could never understand, that I couldn't hope to make you understand, he never told me so. I will say this to you now. If I had known in those days, as a young girl, as much as I know now, as a grown woman, I would have gone to him, and told him I loved him, and asked him if he loved me. And if he had said he did I would have offered to wait for him. If it had meant waiting all my life."

For a moment Phil was awed and silenced, as much by the gravity of her manner as by her words. But then he jealousy mastered him again. He believed her. But he would not admit it. He was more jealous, indeed, of this lofty love she was confessing than he would have been of some intrigue comparable to his own; he had never inspired a feeling like this in the heart of any woman, and he knew it well.

"That's all very well to say," he sneered. "I'd like to know what chance you'd have of making a jury believe it if I chose to sue you for divorce."

She laughed in his face; she was not even angry.

"Don't stand there talking nonsense, Phil," she said. "You'd never sue me for divorce, and you'd be laughed out of court if you did."

"Well, your pattern of a Galahad is trying to make all the trouble he can for me now!" he said, viciously. "I suppose he thinks that may help him with you. Do

CHAPTER X

In a way, it seemed to Phil that the scene he had passed through with Viola had braced him, done him good, made him better able to cope with John Ballard. That was characteristic of Phil, a small, weak man, that he had come, in the course of that searing talk with his wife, to hate John Ballard. He knew now, if he had ever had reason to doubt it, how contemptible a figure he appeared in Viola's eyes; he knew how he stood, with her, beside Ballard. And the knowledge maddened him; enraged him; filled him with hatred of the man who had won from him the woman he had never been able to gain—her respect as well as her love.

"Don't talk to me like that."

PICTORIAL REVIEW

General Hines assures us that there is plenty of money in his bureau to grant every application for a loan even if every one of the 2,200,000 veterans applied. The cost of the work can be easily absorbed by the bureau. Congress will be glad to pass this legislation, because the need and duty are so obvious.

General Hines today estimated that less than one percent of the veterans have asked for loans. "I am greatly encouraged by that," he said, "because it shows that the great majority of the veterans realize the value to themselves and to their dependents of keeping their policies intact whenever possible."

The federal government's plan to lend money to the war veterans on their certificates was approved by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon today.

Mellon announced that there would be no objection from the treasury. He also pointed out that the veterans' bureau has the money to advance and the machinery to place it in the hands of veterans who need it.

He coupled this with a prediction that the banks will grow accustomed, gradually, to the certificate loan arrangement and fall into line. Their making of loans would then supplement the bureau's program, the veterans having the choice of borrowing through either agency.

The first degree was conferred on a group of candidates last night in the Masonic temple by the McKinley Lodge of Masons under the direction of A. Moorhead.

Vet Bureau To Make Loans On War Insurance

of them have turned the veterans down.

Members of congress who voted against the bonus joined with its staunchest advocates in declaring that the law must be made fully effective. Senator Carter Glass, of Virginia, former secretary of the treasury and who opposed the principle of the bonus, was among those who today declared that the government must fulfill its contract with the veterans. The situation was thus summed up by Senator Reed of Pennsylvania:

"There is nowhere a sign of opposition to the plan to vest the veterans' bureau with authority to make the loans. When we passed the law, we fixed a real value on the policies which began this year and we pledged the veterans that they would be able to negotiate loans without difficulty."

General Hines assures us that there is plenty of money in his bureau to grant every application for a loan even if every one of the 2,200,000 veterans applied. The cost of the work can be easily absorbed by the bureau. Congress will be glad to pass this legislation, because the need and duty are so obvious.

"WAR PAINT" IS ATTRACTION AT CALIFORNIA

The days of danger were the real days of romance. Today the modern woman is prone to judge her lover by his ability to dance, or his skill at sports, but in the frontier days it was the manliness of man that counted.

This is brought forcibly to the front in "War Paint," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's initial western film drama starring Col. Tim McCoy and now being shown at the California theatre.

The early days of the frontier witnessed a spirit of general unrest among the Indian tribes and white settlers and even the garisons of the western forts were never safe from Indian attacks. The women of these days lived in constant danger but they lived among brave men and they had a real chance to judge the manliness of their men.

In "War Paint" Pauline Starke plays the role of the heroine who falls in love with a young army officer stationed at a fort in Indian country. Her romance begins under the pall of an Indian uprising and continues to bud and blossom in the roar of battle and amongst the hardships of the frontier.

Karl Dane one of the trio of heroes of "The Big Parade," has the comedy role of "Sergeant Clancy," while Charles French has the role of her father, Major Hopkins, a blustering officer sent by the government to put down Indian uprisings.

Other features on the same program include the beginning of a new series, better than "The Leather Pushers," "The Collegians," featuring George Lewis and Hayden Stevenson; "Marvels in Motion"; "International News"; and Larry Lanelo at the organ.

PIRATES ARE ENROUTE TO THE RICHMOND

Ohoy, there, lubbers! A fleet of plundering pirates is coming to town! Hang out the banners. Get out your cutlasses and come on down to the Richmond Theatre for today's date on which Frank Lloyd's "The Eagle of the Sea" heaves into harbor. Those who've read Charles Tenney Jackson's novel, "Captain Sazarc," know that it's the tale of Jean Lafitte, the Spanish Main buccaner, last of the New Orleans. Lafitte, a fugitive from justice, visits the town in disguise. While there, a number of things happen. He falls in love with the belle of the south, is recognized by Jackson, becomes involved in a plot to rescue Napoleon from St. Helena, succeeds in averting an international war and—but why continue? Certainly, after these few words, you too, will feel a stirring in your bones. Pirates will once more move you to action even as they did when you were just a kid and you'll be there to cheer "The Eagle" on.

Florence Vidor and Ricardo Cortez are featured in this new Paramount production. Julien Josephson prepared the screen play, the director of "The Sea Hawk" has produced another picture which can easily be placed alongside of its first without losing any of its own glamor. Other features on the same program include "Good Morning Nurse," a Mack Sennett comedy; and a "Mutt and Jeff" cartoon.

Sewing Machine Bunco Artist Is Caught In Trap

"You can fool some of the people all of the time," it is said, but when the deception is practiced on two members of the same family within a short time, disastrous results are likely. At least it proved so for Robert Simpson, alleged member of a California bunco ring which is said to have secured thousands of dollars through fraudulent operations.

Simpson's arrest occurred when Mrs. W. W. Mason, wife of the proprietor of the Vallejo agency of a sewing machine company, became suspicious on receiving a request for a sewing machine on trial. Her daughter, Mrs. W. H. Spencer, local sewing machine agent in Richmond, had lost a machine through the same procedure. Instead of sending the machine, Mrs. Mason sent the police.

Authorities arrested a smartly dressed young man, while his beautiful female companion escaped through a rear door in precipitous haste. The man taken into custody at first claimed that his name was Robert Haney but later gave it as Robert Simpson.

The system followed by the ring is said to have been to have a sewing machine sent out on trial by a local agent to a temporary address. The machines accumulated were later disposed of through fences. There are said to be four women and three men in the ring, all gifted with a persuasive tongue. They are reported to have operated in San Francisco, Oakland and Los Angeles.

ELECTRIC BAKE SHOP TO OPEN ON SATURDAY

"The Electric Bakery," located at 2219 Macdonald avenue, will open for business in Richmond Saturday morning, it was announced yesterday by the proprietors, O. C. Fulton, R. C. Fulton, and Joseph Sharp.

A full line of high quality goods will be handled. The delicatessen to be installed in conjunction with the regular line of breads and pastry will be one of the most up to date in the city.

The new Edison Bake Oven to be used in the shop is the first of its kind to be used in Richmond, according to the proprietors. It is expected that this will make it possible to produce the finest kind of confectionery.

O. C. Fulton and his son R. C. Fulton need no introduction, nor does their partner Joseph Sharp. All have been in Richmond for a number of years, and have given the best of satisfaction in their chosen line.

"We believe we have a good location," Sharp declared yesterday, "and we are sure that we can produce goods that will please the people of Richmond."

The Dollar Bill

The wide popularity and increasing usefulness of dollar bills made it necessary last year for the government to issue about four hundred and fifty million of them—seven times as many as in 1900. The constant handling of the paper has reduced the average life of the bill to eight months.

In considering the many uses of dollar bills, it should not be forgotten that one of them is required to open a Savings Account in the American Trust Company, where it will earn four percent interest, compounded semi-annually

Former City Attorney Tells Of Old Times

William T. Satterwhite, first city attorney in Richmond, and now a member of the state railroad commission, yesterday related spirited reminiscences of early days before this territory was incorporated.

He stated that the movement to annex all that territory now included within the City limits met with stiff opposition from corporations. An election was held in 1905 which was largely in favor of annexation. When the corporations took their fight to the supreme court Satterwhite opposed some of the foremost attorneys of the time and won.

Satterwhite came to Richmond yesterday to investigate the application of the Standard Sanitary Manufacturing company to build a spur track into the pottery plant on the Giant highway.

Evidence Heard For New Spur At Local Pottery

Before examiners of the State Railroad commission yesterday morning in the city hall, evidence for the re-hearing before the commission on the application of the Standard Sanitary Manufacturing company and the Santa Fe Railroad company to build another spur track to its new plant on the Giant highway near San Pablo was taken. William T. Satterwhite and Thomas M. Gannon were in charge.

The railroad commission recently denied the application but granted a re-hearing when proponents of the spur agreed to produce additional evidence showing the necessity of the tracks. The commission bases its opposition on the grounds that one spur track already leaves the main line and crosses the Giant highway and objects to a second crossing.

That the present spur track is not capable of handling all freight to be shipped when the addition now under construction is completed in a few weeks, is the argument of the Sanitary company. The present spur runs to the old plant while the second would run to that portion now being erected.

The commission points out that when plans for the addition were drawn, consideration should have been taken of the necessity of extending the old spur to serve the new portion of the plant.

The examiners will take the evidence before the commission as a whole and after consideration a decision will be handed down.

Cheves is alleged to have struck Findley following an auto crash at Fourth and Bissell. Betty Findley, 5, daughter of the plaintiff, was treated for cuts about the nose at the Abbott Emergency hospital.

SOLO SCORES TREATMENT OF WAR VETERANS

Instead of a cash bonus the government gave the veterans an insurance policy in part payment of the financial losses they suffered as the result of their service in the World War. The veterans were told that those policies would have a loan value at the end of two years. That time is here. Yet veterans find many banks unwilling to lend. Accordingly, the government itself is being urged to make these loans from its ample funds.

By HON. ROYAL S. COPELAND U. S. Senator from New York. Written expressly for Universal Service.

Washington, Jan. 20.—I voted for the cash bonus. The administration refused to give it. They told the veterans that it would wreck the treasury. There was to be a deficit of $200,000,000, they said. Instead of a deficit of $200,000,000, there was a surplus of $800,000,000. Veterans who have been succeeding in surplus in excess of a billion dollars may come to that dangerous state of mind of wondering whether they ever can believe their own government.

The veterans got, instead of cash, an insurance certificate. This certificate, they were told, would be equivalent to any security which the government issues. When I was a boy, I was taught to believe that Uncle Sam meant just what he said. Uncle Sam is sound to the core. But some people who speak for him have only tongues.

What must be the feeling of the veteran who lived in the mud-soaked trenches of France, who under went machine-gun fire, gas attacks and artillery bombardment, who now finds himself unable to borrow a nickel upon the security given him by the government that he was ready to die for?

It is wrong, utterly wrong, that these veterans who were deceived for years should now be required to come on bended knees to get an advancement on certificates representing money which belongs to them.

I contended during the debate that this measure provides only a death benefit. Unless some means is found to make these loans, it will be nothing but that.

Mr. Mellon gives us absolutely no relief in the matter. He passes the buck to the local banks, saying that they can loan if they desire. Of what comfort is it to a war veteran, badly in need of money, to stand on the curbstone with his certificate in his hand while the secretary of the treasury and the local banks argue? Who is to blame for refusing to grant him a loan?

The veterans bureau has ample funds. The bureau should be authorized without delay to grant the loans upon the certificates.

California's 1926 fruit pack aggregated 20,974,700 cases.

MAY PROBE THE QUALIFICATIONS OF APPOINTEE

Public Utility commission. The adoption of the resolution by such a decisive majority indicates similar action by the senate when Smith presents himself for admission after March 4, to the full term of six years to which he was elected last November. The vote also indicates that when William S. Varé of Pennsylvania presents himself for admission similar action will be taken and he will be denied the privilege of taking the oath until the senate has determined whether the use of $3,000,000 in his campaign has disqualified him for a seat.

Almost immediately after the debate began at noon, the tone was lowered into the realm of politics and the high sounding constitutional arguments of yesterday were cast aside. The republicans and democrats were "playing politics" with a constitutional question.

Once more Col. Smith sat in the big red-leather arm chair in the rear of the chamber listening unconcernedly to the lofty legal arguments against his admission to the senate. The political charges and the running fire of banter between the party wheel horses.

Senator James E. Watson of Indiana, was the first to take the floor in the debate. He argued for the seating of Smith on the face of his credentials. He was constantly baited by the Democrats, led by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, minority leader.

Watson cited numerous precedents and declared that any man clothed with the credentials of a sovereign state was entitled to admittance, if there were no fraud or corruption attached to them. He declared that Smith's credentials were clean and that he should be seated. He added, however, that he had not made up his mind as to how he would vote on the question of exclusion after the case had been threshed out in committee.

Robinson took Watson on for a rough and tumble debate, in which he contended that the senate had the power to exclude members for contagious disease such as leprosy, for crimes, or for idocy. "Everybody knows that an idiot can not take an oath," retorted Watson.

"Of course," rejoined Robinson. "We all know that fools, damn fools, sometimes get into legislative bodies."

Changing his tactics, Robinson made the direct accusation that Watson was trying to "line up the forces in this chamber according to politics." Watson hotly denied the charge, and announced that he had "done all in my power to prevent Frank Smith from coming down here."

"Why, why, why," shouted Robinson, "that's just what I'm getting at."

"That's my business," shot back Watson. "It's none of the business of the senator from Arkansas and none of the senate's business."

Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, then demanded to know whether Watson had made his attempt to prevent Smith from coming to Washington before or after Smith had been appointed by Governor Small.

"When I go out in the lobby and sit down with the senator from Mississippi, I'll tell him all about it," Watson replied with a smile.

"I object," shouted Robinson, amid the laughter in the senate and galleries. He persisted with the question but Watson declared that he "refused to answer further" and began to read some musty precedents.

"Louder," yelled Robinson, and

SECRET OF LIFE MAY BE FOUND BY U. C. MAN

(By Universal Service) BERKELEY, Jan. 20.—An experiment regarded as having profound significance to the medical world, and which may be one of the stepping stones to the discovery of the secret of life was revealed here today with the announcement by the University of California that the electrical conductivity of protoplasm, the substance of which all living things including man are composed, has been determined.

The University of California announcement asserts that for the first time in a definite, quantitative way, experiments have proved that the substance of life is conductive to electrical current.

Samuel Gelfen, teaching fellow in zoology, conducted the experiments, succeeding where hundreds of scientists in all parts of the world have failed.

In making his experiments, Gelfen used a delicate apparatus capable of recording currents so small that ordinary instruments could not register them.

Ciliated protozoa, or single celled animals, and unicellular plants were used in the experiments.

The size of these microscopic organisms is about one-tenth of a millimeter, and they are not visible to the naked eye.

To carry out his work, Gelfen explained today, it was necessary to penetrate the walls of the tiny organism with delicate electrodes and measure the ease with which electricity could pass through the interior of them.

To do this he used a micromanipulator and microscope, magnifying the apparatus as well as the organisms about 400 times.

Among important points established was a seeming connection between the activity of the organism and its conductivity.

Until Gelfen's work, it was thought living cells could not conduct electric current to any appreciable extent. It was shown that the cell wall and not the interior of the cell obstructed the passage of the electric current.

Gelfen showed that unicellular plants and animals are capable of storing the salts of the water in which they live in a higher concentration than in the water itself. Since electrical current is carried by free electrolytes and injury lowers the ability of the organism to store them, the electrical conductivity is decreased by injury.

again the chamber rocked with laughter.

Senator Curtis of Kansas, Republican leader, then took a hand and charged that the Democrats "for years decided election contests in the house on purely political considerations."

"When the Democrats were in power, they turned out the Republicans on the slightest pretext, and when the Republicans were in power they exercised the same methods over Democrats," said Curtis.

The Republican insurgents struck back at the regulars when Senator Frazier of North Dakota, took the floor and declared that the case of his colleague, Senator Nye, was in the same class with that of Smith. He charged administration leaders with attempting to stop Nye's appointment and after he came to the senate forced him to stand aside and refused to administer the oath until after a long investigation and finally the senate seated Nye with the aid of Democratic votes.

"This case is no different from the Nye case," he said. "It puzzles me that Republicans who opposed seating Nye are now favoring the seating of Smith. Of course I was not as regular then as I am supposed to be now."

Reporter of R. R. Commission Fails To Recognize City

Toot! Toot! And the train carrying Official Reporter Harrison of the State Railroad commission belched forth a cloud of smoke as it passed through Richmond yesterday morning. Harrison turned restlessly in a half coma induced by the motion of the train. Perhaps some subconscious warning told him that he was due at a meeting of examiners of the railroad commission with city officials in the council chamber of the city designated as "Toot! Toot!" by the locomotive's whistle.

But for all that he slept peacefully on until he was informed that far from being in "The Pittsburg of the Pacific" he was in Port Costa, and that if he wished to continue his slumbers he must board the ferry.

It was long past 10 o'clock in the morning, the time scheduled for a hearing of a petition for a spur track in Richmond, when Reporter Harrison heaved into view.

Proceedings in the council chamber had necessarily been delayed due to the absence of the official reporter. It was with relief that they shook him by the hand and welcomed him to the city. Harrison believes that only men with lusty voices should be employed as conductors on trains. He decided that after the experience of yesterday morning.

LOWELL CAGERS AND LOCAL FIVE TO MEET HERE

The Richmond Union high school basketball squad will try to see what it can do against the Lowell high school squad tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the local high school gym. In the preliminary game the local B's and Lowell B's will tangle.

Since the game with University high school Coach Ivan Hill has been placing his men through some stiff workouts in an effort to get his men out of the "slough of despond" into which they seem to have fallen.

For some reason or other the team has not been showing as much pep as an unlimited team of the school generally does. They have lost two games this year to schools that they should have beaten.

On the other hand the Middlets are all that can be desired, presenting a flashy attack and a brilliant defense that always marks the little fellows.

Hill declared yesterday that he has hopes of hanging up a victory.

Cougar Coach To Instruct Cage School

BERKELEY, Jan. 19.—Dr. J. F. Bohler, director of athletics at Washington State college, considered the dean of all basketball authorities on the Pacific Coast, will conduct the three weeks basketball course in the University of California Summer Session Coaching school this summer. Bohler, whose All-Coast quintets are an annual feature of the official basketball guide, will instruct at Berkeley from June 27 to July 16.

U. C. Swimmers Announce Meets

BERKELEY, Jan. 20.—Three conference opponents—Oregon, Southern California and Stanford—have been signed to meet University of California swimming and water polo teams this coming season. It was learned here today with the release of the Bear paddlers 1927 schedule. Dates include: February 11-12—University of Oregon at Oakland. February 18—Stanford at Oakland. March 5—Stanford at Stanford. April 11—Southern California at Oakland.

NEW WALKING RECORD

Attilio Callegari recently established a new world's record for the 20-kilometer (12.5 miles) walk by covering the distance in 32 minutes and 51 seconds. Callegari is the Italian marathon champion.

BASEBALL IN ENGLAND

A professional baseball league is to be formed in England. Three high grade teams will be imported from the United States and a London team will be formed of students from Cambridge and Oxford.

Cage Officials To Don Garb Of The Prisoners

BERKELEY, Jan. 19.—Officials at conference basketball games in the University of California will resemble a prisoner's eye view of a cell window, if local authorities follow out the recommendation made at the recent meeting of Northwest coaches and officials at Portland.

Home teams are required at all times to keep on hand two black and white vertically striped jerseys for the exclusive use of officials, that they may be readily distinguished from the players, according to the ruling.

U. C. Nine May Visit Japan

BERKELEY, Jan. 19.—The University of California baseball nine may tour Japan this summer, if an invitation now on its way to W. W. Monahan, general manager of the Associated Students, is accepted.

Koio University, upon whose invitation other Golden Bear nines have journeyed to the Orient, would be host to the Californians.

The proposal, if approved by the student executive committee, would provide for departure from San Francisco on May 11, and return from Japan on a steamer sailing from Yokohama on June 27. Five weeks would be spent playing a schedule with Japanese universities.

Last summer, while the California team was in Hawaii, the Stanford Cardinals made the Japanese trip.

U. C.-St. Mary's Game Scheduled

BERKELEY, Jan. 19.—If Harmon gymnasium had rubber walls and extension bleachers the California-St. Mary's basketball game on Saturday night, January 22, would be played on the Golden Bear's own campus, as originally scheduled. But impossibility of accommodating the crowd expected has made it necessary to translocate the contest to the Oakland auditorium, where more space is available.

The original unit of Harmon gymnasium, men's physical education building at the University of California, was built more than half a century ago as the gift of A. K. Harmon. The structure is built of wood and when filled to capacity cannot accommodate more than three thousand spectators.

Junior High 100 Beats Garfield

The Junior high school 100 pound basketball squad took the strong Garfield Junior high school team of Berkeley down the line yesterday by a score of 10 to 4 in a fast and furious game.

In the preliminary game the local 85 pounders lost by a score of 10 to 5.

GOLF

Alex Smith, famous Scottish golfer, received $125 for winning his first professional golf championship.

CARD AT CLUB IN EL CERRITO IS PROMISING

Tim Vahey and Joe Limas of El Cerrito will be the top liners on the fight card tonight at the El Cerrito Athletic club. This card gives promise of being one of the best in years, Manager Joseph Rossi of the club, declared yesterday.

Luddy Ryan, the Pinole leather pusher and Ray Walker will be featured in the semi-windup. Ryan is the pride of Eftania in Pinole and he declares that he will have an easy time with Walker. So did Billy Burke and said Billy is still nursing such cuts and bruises that he was unable to go on this card.

Joe Diamond, a printer's devil from an Oakland newspaper will meet Mickey Britten of Berkeley. Diamond has not appeared in the squared circle before the public more than twice.

Mickey Brown will see if he still has a wicked right when he goes up against Jerry Sylvia of San Francisco and Sylvia is one of the toughest little fighters that ever called Telegraph Hill his home town.

Frankie Perry and Andy Capriola of Chicago will mix in what is expected to be a bang-up bout.

Bill Tired and Jimmy Ryan, both of Oakland will open the show.

U. C. ROWING CREW BEST IN SEASONS

BERKELEY, Jan. 20.—With a nucleus of fifteen first and second boatmen returning for crew practice, this semester, "Ky" Ebright, University of California crew coach anticipates a successful season.

Only three men will be missing from the roster of twenty-four in the three boats that competed on the Poughkeepsie and with junior varsity and freshman sweepstake coming up this semester, the Bear shells will become a dangerous contender once more.

Coach Ebright will send out his call for men within the next two weeks. The eligible list includes: Wyman Vernon (Berkeley), Ross Babcock (Los Angeles), Harold Hoover (Glendale), Edlin Berlin (Berkeley), Ward Von Tillow (Santa Rosa), Pete De Jong (Berkeley), Hardy Hutchinson (Piedmont), Carrol Dressler (Oakland), Alvin Rylander (Kallispell, Mon.), Maynard Toll (Glendale), Marsin Stalder (Riverside), Albert Moe (Oakland), Kenneth Danwoody (Sacramento), Don Blesing (Visalia), and Charles Newby (Los Angeles).

The California Babes were tossed out in their race with Washington yearlings last year after a thrilling race and will contribute some valuable material for the Varsity boat.

"Ky" Ebright and freshman coach "Russ" Nagler have just returned from the North and announced that the Washington crew has suffered severe losses due to graduation. Ebright is sanguine of a California crew cleanup on April 9th when the annual regatta is rowed on the Oakland Estuary.

Bearcats Win From Hyenas At The Y.M.C.A.

Parker's Bear Cats of the Y. M. C. A. volleyball league took the measure of Lester's Hyenas on Wednesday night by a score of 15 to 10 and 15 to 13 in two close and exciting matches.

Turner's Panthers forfeited to Hill's Tigers.

The lineups. Bear Cats—C. E. Parker, M. H. Greenlee, H. L. Simmons, R. G. Cunningham, and B. E. Seebie. Hyenas—L. Lester, Dr. W. W. Giberson, F. A. Woten and Herbert Turner.

PULLMAN FIVE WINS TITLE IN ITS DIVISION

By defeating the LaMoines basketball squad last night on the Junior high school gymnasium by a score of 31 to 10, the Pullman team won the championship of their division, the gold basketball prizes and the right to play the Giant team on January 27 for the championship of the city.

The Pullman team was in better form last night than they have been for many moons.

Rowdy Dyer was given a bad shaking up after two or three collisions and that shaking up gave him back his basket eye. During the course of the festivities he took home 13 points.

George Cornell who strutted his stuff at guard made six points out of the 31.

Tamm and Barberie came through with four points each and Daily and Huzefka each strutted with a basket apiece.

The Pullman team is going to take a rest until the championship game is scheduled, for every member of the team is feeling slightly fagged after three or four stiff games a week. The Pullman champs never practice, instead they play a stiff game that gives them plenty of practice—but it does wear 'em out.

The first part of last night's game started out good, but when the Pull Rollers saw that they had not a chance of winning they started "roughing it" much to the joy of the spectators who got a big "kick" out of the deal. Patrique Macdonald, who has an eye for bandits as well as baskets, got away with some pretty shots that surprised him as well as the fans.

Ed Fanning made four baskets and helped the score.

In the preliminary game the Giant team, who were the Giant uniform lost to the Ben Malik team in a practice game by a score of 24 to 8.

The lineups: Pullman: Dyer, f. 12; Huzefka, f. 2; Tamm, c. 6; Barberie, g. 4; Cornell, g. 6; Daily, sub-guard 2. LaMoines: McLaughlin, g. 1; Moore, f. 8; Great-house, f. 1; Healey, f. MacDonald, 22, sub.

Ben Malik: Hosking, f. 12; Johnson, f. 1; Millicovich, c. 4; Campbell, g. 4; Vargas, g. 1; Debaer, 2 and Gordon, subs. Giant: Villalobos, f. Cornell, f. 6; Dumond, c.; Dornel, g. 2 and Andrews.

ONE BIG FAMILY

If plans to admit to membership those clubs now classed as allied members go through, the United States Golf association will control about 1,000 clubs, it is estimated.

Quintets Use Spirit Levels

BERKELEY, Jan. 19.—Spirit levels are now a regular part of a conference basketball team's equipment.

Pacific Coast Conference officials, in session at Portland, have decided that hereafter all teams have on hand an accurate spirit level with which to test basket rings before each game.

Petaluma—Pioneer Hatchery with capital of $500,000 chartered.

Seven Gridders On California Quintet

BERKELEY, Jan. 19.—Seven football men grace the California Varsity basketball team this season. Vern Corbin, George Dixon, Ralph and Jim Dougery, Walwie Mills and "Dutch" Clymer were carried on the Varsity grid squad last fall. Lee Eisan, a Christmas sophomore, was quarter and captain of the 1926 freshmen football team.

San Louis Obispo—21 blocks of city streets to be paved.

Roosevelt Cagers To Play 2 Games

Basketball games with two schools today and tomorrow have been announced by Coaches W. L. Seawright and George D. Miner of the Roosevelt Junior high school. This afternoon Miner's 100 pounders and unlimiteds will travel to Oakland to play Edison. Tomorrow Seawright's 100, 110 and 120 pounders will meet Pelama there.

Six Footers On O. A. C. Crews

(By Universal Service)

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Jan. 20.—O. A. C. athletes like the timber of Oregon, grow tall, judging from the measurements of men answering the first call for rowing here of approximately 170 aspirants, 32 are 6 feet or over. On the football squad last year 21 players stretched the tape to 6 feet or over.

A New World's Hydroplane Record with Richfield!

EXCEEDING the best previous record by 17 miles an hour and breaking every existing mile straightaway record for 151 class hydroplanes, Harry Miller's "Angeles I", driven by Ralph Snoddy and powered by a Model 151, 4 cylinder Miller engine using Richfield Gasoline, established a new, electrically timed world's record of 60.11 miles per hour January 9th at the Newport Bay time trials of the Pacific Coast Hydroplane Ass'n.

The only entry to use Richfield Gasoline in a field comprised of the fastest hydroplanes on the Pacific Coast, the "Angeles" remarkable record was 20 miles an hour faster than any boat competing, over 13 miles an hour faster than "Spitfire V" holder of the Elgin Speed by more than 16 miles an hour the record of "Spitfire VI", winner of the National Motor boat championship at San Diego on December 12th.

Harry Miller, internationally famous motor designer whose racing motors hold many of the world's existing speed records, uses and recommends Richfield Gasoline for all his engines. He uses Richfield exclusively in his own car because he knows it is the most perfectly balanced fuel obtainable for present day motors. Use Richfield in your car and get maximum efficiency...easier starting, speed, power and mileage combined!

Will Enjoy a Happy New Year Blood Test Shows Negative

Dec. 28, 1926. At the beginning of last summer my blood test showed two positives; that is two x's. It had previously been four x's (positives). After I failed to get relief by treatments of hypodermic shots.

I decided to give the Fong Wan Herbs a trial. I drank the herbs for only one month. Nevertheless, when I had a blood test taken again on Dec. 24, 1926, the test showed negative. So my blood is thoroughly cleansed and things O. K. at last. I shall certainly enjoy a Happy New Year. Because of my gratitude for the Fong Wan Herbs Treatment, I am glad to give this testimonial.

DRY BILLS TO BE IGNORED BY THIS CONGRESS

(By Universal Service)

By JAMES R. NOURSE
WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Disclosure of the shocking death toll from poisoned liquor in the case of prohibition enforcement has brought to an end all efforts of dry leaders to enact new prohibition measures at this session of congress. It became known today that leaders in both houses are willing to adjourn without making any attempt to pass the bills now pending.

This means that the carefully drawn program of prohibition leaders, which was endorsed by the Anti-Saloon league and backed by General Lincoln C. Andrews, head of the prohibition unit, will go by the boards. The determination to drop the proposed measures comes as a direct result of the revelations concerning fatalities from bootleg liquor manufactured from alcohol which had been poisoned by the government's agents.

Congress was stunned by these disclosures and by common consent among dry leaders it has been agreed that the present state of mind of congress will make it impossible to enact new measures strengthening the hands of the prohibition enforcement officials.

The golf bill to reorganize the prohibition unit could be called up any time in the senate, but is not likely to receive any attention. This is one of the pet measures of General Andrews. His bill to reorganize the customs service, also could be acted upon, but is a dead one on the calendar. The proposal of Andrews to put the government in the business of manufacturing medicinal whiskey is before the house ways and means committee and probably will not be reported. An item in the appropriation bill allowing $500,000 for the employment of "under cover" agents has been stricken out.

Defeat of the dry program has revived rumors that General Andrews will resign. Last summer Andrews wrote his resignation last summer in disgust over the failure of his plans for rigid enforcement. He agreed to withhold it, however, at the request of Secretary Mellon, in the belief that congress at this session would give him the measures which he regarded necessary.

Scientist Claims He Can Now Make Silver From Lead

(By Universal Service)

By O. D. TOLISCHUS
Special Cable Dispatch
BERLIN, Jan. 20.—Following the explosion of the claim of a German scientist that he could turn mercury into gold, a Norwegian-American engineer now asserts that he can turn lead into silver—at the rate of thirty cents a pound.

The new alchemist, whose name is Elstad, has erected a factory at Oslo for the manufacture of silver on a large scale. He says he began his experiments near New York but had to flee from one place to another because others working at the same task tried to steal his process.

Elstad says that through chemical and physical influences nature changes lead into silver which is proved he says by silver nuggets which he found in an Australian mine that were silver only on the outside while the inside was lead. He claims to have discovered a cheap process to accomplish the same transformation, for which nature takes 900 years, within a few hours. The lead, he explains, is simply heated to 800 degrees Celsius, when it is mixed with another substance—which is his secret.

Arnold Daly, Actor, Dies in Fire

Arnold Daly, famous actor and manager, was burned to death in a fire which swept the five-story studio apartment building in which he lived at 23 West 51st st., New York. Firemen had great difficulty fighting the blaze as may be seen from this picture. They found Daly's charred body an hour after flames had been extinguished.

Oil refinery will gradually become more infected by the dread disease which started sapping the intelligence of the youth from the moment he was born. Although the law requires that if Streeter ever is declared sane he will have to stand trial for the murder of Bosanko all of the alienists declared that day will never come to pass.

Those accustomed to witnessing trials of this nature were somewhat surprised to find that the prosecution (which would have to demand the life of the young man if he was found sane) was heartily in accord with the defense which called the witnesses in the case to the stand. The insanity hearing held yesterday was not at the request of the defense to dodge a murder trial—it was a general agreement between the two sides of the case supported by the belief of the trial judge that a reasonable doubt as to the sanity of the youth existed.

The three alienists, Dr. Joseph Catten, famous San Francisco alienist and an instructor in the Stanford University medical school, Dr. Fred P. Clark of the Stockton state hospital, and Dr. G. W. Ogden of the Napa state hospital all testified as to the hallucinations of the youth.

They brought out the "inferior-ty complex" which had beset the youth from his early childhood. It was explained that his type of insanity was not of the type that was brought on by a sudden shock but that it was something that started with the birth of the child—a failure of certain brain cells to develop in the established manner. Incidents in the life of the youth, the intemperance habits of his father, the fear that Streeter had displayed toward his father all his life, and how this fear had followed him wherever he went, destroying his faith in himself and gradually becoming an obsession were outlined by the alienists as they traced the life of the youth and the turning points in his career.

Slurs alleged by Streeter to have been thrown at the character of his wife whether real or imagined were said to have started the mental twist about eighteen months ago which led to the slaying in this city.

Streeter does not realize the extent of his crime the witnesses pointed out. The only outstanding thing of the entire affair was a beating which he gave the slain man a few weeks before the slaying with his bare hands. This seemed to afford Streeter great amusement while attorneys and doctors were discussing with him his fight for life in court on the murder charge, it was testified.

The youth did not consider the consequence of his deeds. The most outstanding motive in his mind was the retaliation for the "besmirched character of his wife" according to his delusions. He stated to the doctors who examined him that he had given serious thought to killing his wife and children but that he could not bear the thought of "hurting the babies." Streeter one time turned on the gas in their home with the intention of doing this, Dr. Catten declared during his testimony.

Streeter told Dr. Catten, the latter testified, that on the morning of November 16 when he slew Bosanko that he would have killed any of his other fellow employees who had "kidded" him had he met them. He also expressed the desire, Catten said, to kill these men as soon as he was released from custody.

According to statements made by Streeter he killed Bosanko because he was the ringleader of a number of Standard Oil fellow employees who had cast slurring remarks at the character of his wife, and at his small stature and also for his negligence in defending her honor.

W. M. Isbell, an uncle of the youth, took the stand as the first witness yesterday and told of the early life of the youth and the domineering effect upon the youth's life of a father who used intoxicants to excess. Isbell, an attorney in Lima, Ohio, came west to assist in the defense of his nephew during the murder trial which was scheduled for last Tuesday but was postponed on account of the insanity hearing.

Other witnesses who testified at the trial included William Yeale, undersheriff; B. V. Shirley, captain of the Richmond police department and Thomas E. Gilmartin, deputy sheriff and custodian at the jail. All of these witnesses testified that in their minds Streeter was mentally unbalanced.

The jurors who heard the case are H. A. Johnston, foreman; W. M. Garrett, J. H. Morrow, Mrs. A. S. Stoddard, A. B. Wilson, Martha Shafer, A. J. Tavan, Margaret Gately, W. E. Miles, R. E. McNeil, Kathryn Pride and Minnie K. Hart.

Tsar Calfee and T. D. Johnston acted as attorney for the defense.

PAST LIFE OF REV. NORRIS TO BE GIVEN JURY

were made. Moses held that questions "so outrageously inadmissible" and so remote as the arson and other charges enumerated in the motions will be highly prejudicial to the defense. Norris was acquitted on all these charges.

McLean arose and claimed the right "to trace him (Norris) from start to finish." He resented any attempt to have the state's hands tied. McLean admitted there had been an agreement between state and defense not to bring up remote charges. But, he continued, the state would not be held at a disadvantage.

Marvin Simpson then delivered an address, picturing the Rev. Norris as having fought the forces of evil in politics. For that reason, Simpson added, there had been an effort to create prejudice against his crusading client.

The court refused to pass on the motions. However, he ruled that questions raised in the motions relating to the Rev. Norris' past indictments, are not to be asked in the presence of the jury at this time, but must be referred to the court itself.

Court recessed at 6:15 p. m., until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. The Norris defense, through more than 20 witnesses, has tried to prove these, among other things:

1.—That Chippis threatened the pastor's life, over the telephone to Norris himself, and in conversations with others.

2.—That no such woman as Mrs. Roxie Parker, elderly star witness for the state, was at or near the death scene.

3.—That Chippis went armed to the minister's study, or at least acted as though he were armed.

Miss Jane Hartwell's hour on the witness stand this afternoon seemed to shake both her delicate body and the defense of the Rev. Norris. It was a tedious hour and a trying one; an hour that may mean all the difference in the world to the fate of the Fort Worth pastor.

Coming lately from a hospital where she had a nervous breakdown, this dignified, school mistress type of woman was called on to meet the blunt, cross examination of W. P. McLean.

McLean hammered from Miss Hartwell an admission that she had been in a place commanding full view of Chippis as he stood or stooped in an ante room.

Yet Miss Hartwell testified she had heard Chippis make no threats. McLean some times thundered at this witness. Again he would mimic her precise, rather, Bostonese manner of speaking.

The testimony of Miss Hartwell, was distinctly unfavorable to the defense, in the opinion of the state. McLean said tonight: "Where all witnesses agree that Chippis was outside Norris' study door when he made so-called threats, Miss Hartwell heard no such threats. Yet she was near the doorway leading from the main offices to that ante-room. She could see and hear everything."

Legal Battle On Sale Of Railway Ended By Court

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—Ending a legal battle which has lasted for more than a year, Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson today approved the sale and reorganization of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway.

Minority interests headed by Edwin C. Jameson, of New York, representing about nine percent of the road's bonds, had opposed the sale of the road, and the reorganization plans submitted by Kuhn, Loeb & company and the National City company.

The road was sold at public auction in Butte, Mont., on November 22, 1926, to Robert T. Swaine and Donald C. Swatland, representing the reorganization companies, on their bid of $140,000,000.

SINCLAIR WILL FACE CHARGES OF CONTEMPT

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Harry F. Sinclair, oil millionaire, must make his second appearance in criminal court here to answer an indictment growing out of the oil scandals.

District Attorney Peyton Gordon today announced that the oil millionaire will be summoned to enter his plea to the indictment charging contempt in connection with his refusal to answer questions asked by a senate investigation committee.

Last December Sinclair pleaded not guilty on an indictment charging him with conspiracy to defraud the government out of its naval oil reserves. Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, is a codefendant in the conspiracy charge. Trial of that case has been set for February 2 but is expected to be delayed because of the illness of Fall.

The contempt indictment was demurred to by Sinclair's attorneys. The pleading was overruled and an appeal to the supreme court for a review was denied last week.

The district attorney today presented the mandate of the appellate court, holding Sinclair must stand trial, to Justice Hutz. The date of arraignment will be fixed later this week.

Steer Stirs Up Strife; City Gets Barbecue

(By Universal Service)

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—Lemont, a suburb, is to have a barbecue, all because a steer dropped through a sidewalk and then objected to being rescued.

The steer, which was passing along the street with part of a herd, fell through a weak point in the surface, into the basement of a store. The animal ran down several persons but attempted to rescue him, but finally had to be shot.

Harry Jungles, the owner, promised to give a barbecue for the entire city.
